May you be comforted by your precious memories and know that you are always in our thoughts. During this time of reflection, my memories are of sitting and watching westerns on tv with him and he would always tell me he knew when I was in town, because he would see daddy's car and tell me that "Roy Lee's car still looked good." My last memory of will be of seeing him last month at the Jackson reunion and how good he looked. Wish that I could be there for my family and friends.Linda & family
