Imonne Payne lit a candle in honor of Fred.

I think about you all the time I miss you so much Grandpa, but I know you are in the place that you deserve. I know that you are watching over me and I love you for that. I remember that time when you were laughing at me because when I was little I was eating an apple and my tooth fell out and I was crying because I thought I was going to have to get dentures. I love you so much.
