Robert was born October 7, 1953 in Dalton, Missouri to Chauncey and Lottie Jackson.

Robert loved to go on car rides. He would always grab his jacket when family would visit and was always ready to go. When family visit they always brought snacks, which he enjoyed. He always loved attention. If you were talking to someone else he would start coughing to get your attention, which made us smile and laugh. He was mentally disabled and couldn't talk but he was loved by family and friends.

He is survived by his brothers: Chauncey Jackson and wife Kaye Jackson of Marshall, Missouri, Ricky Jackson and Darren Jackson both of Aurora, Colorado, sisters: Peggy Lucas and Husband J.L. Lucas of Moberly, Missouri, Diane Hughes of San Antonio, Texas, as well as several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Robert lived at Marshall Rehabilitation Center in Marshall, Missouri for the majority of his life. Then he moved to Dillahunt in Columbia, Missouri and from there he moved to Fidelis in Columbia, Missouri. His health caused him to move to Valley View Rehabilitation in Moberly, Missouri.
