My Mother was a beautiful woman with a huge heart, I loved her very much and she was not only my Mom, but also my best friend! She was very close to my children, Amanda and Jeremy Ryan and their children, Trevor, Sawyer, Arial, Travis, Natalie. She adored Amanda and they were very close, she spent many many moments building fond memories with my kids and her great grandchildren. Travis was born in her birthday, so he was her "gift" from God she would say, although all of her children and grandchildren and great grandchildren were special to her! Mom had many lifetime friends, she loved the Perry girls who were also her Step Sisters, she loved Betty White Steele, Bobby Steele, Beulah Smith, Erma Lawrence, and Elmer Hayes were some of her closest friends. Mom wrote songs and poems. She has a poem in the American Poetry Society book, and Buck Owens stole Mom's song that became a hit sing for him "Loves gonna live here again". She enjoyed flea markets and yard sales. Mom spent her last days in my home. I'll cherish that time with her. ❤️
